War Is Declared On The Possible Flea Hopper

County Agent, Floyd Lynch Sets out the War Campaign

The cotton flea hopper causes considerable damage to cotton practically every year in some portion of Texas. The extent and location in which the largest amount of damage has occurred have varied. In general, however, cotton on the heavier soils seem to be injured more than cotton on the lighter soils.

An early infestation of the flea-hopper may be costly if not controlled. It is natural to delay the application of control measures when the plants are young, growing nicely, and a long season is ahead, but, whenever there is a possibility that boll weevil, leaf-worm, root rot or a prolonged period of dry weather may cause a reduction in the fruiting of the cotton, delay in controlling the flea hopper may mean the difference between a profitable season and a crop failure.

Since other insects, disease, and weather hazards which threaten a late crop are more or less general in Texas, it is recommended that measures be taken when necessary to make the crop mature as early as favorable weather conditions will permit.

The flea hopper, is only about 1-8 inch long when full grown, light greenish or grayish in color, has sucking mouth parts and obtains its food by piercing the tender growth of the plant and sucking the plant's juice and vitality. On cotton it is usually the small squares, less than 1-4 inch long, that they seem to prefer to feed on. These small squares, when punctured, dry up and fall from the plant.

More than 50 host plants of flea hopper are known, among the weed, probably the most important are goatweed, horse-mint and primrose. Cotton is the most important host among cultivated plants.

Sulphur has proved to be the cheapest, safest and most effective insecticide for controlling the flea hopper, under usual conditions of infestation. It should be ground so at least 93 to 95 per cent will pass through a 325 mesh screen. From 12 to 18 pounds of sulphur per acre should be used for each application, depending on the size of the cotton; a good coverage on every plant is necessary. Dew at the time of application is unimportant, but the wind movement is to be considered. For best results, sulphur should be applied when the air is calm; this usually means night or early morning applications.

Sulphur should be applied at weekly intervals until a crop is set. The cost of a seasonal control will vary from $2 to $4 per acre; net gains vary from $2 to $12 per acre. From 2 to 5 applications should give seasonal control. If any dusts applied to cotton is rained off within

INSTALLED MODERN SERVICE COUNTER AT REYNOLDS DRUG STORE

Last week the "commotion" observed at the Reynolds Drug Store was nothing but the process of modernization. A company was busy installing a modernistic service counter for Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds. They had an almost new fount counter, but it did not have the latest in sandwich making and therefore something more extensive and modern had to be secured. This new counter is 20 feet long and at one end it has an electric refrigerator unit and a bread toaster. It seems the slogan is now "drink and be merry" at the same place. On with new things.

P. E. SMITH'S SISTER DIED IN CAMPBELL, TEXAS

P. E. Smith was called to Campbell, Texas last Monday night to attend the funeral of a sister, Mrs. J. M. Green. Mrs. Green was 79 years of age and the last of the family except Mr. Smith, who will be 84 years old in September. He was accompanied by his wife and son, W. R. (Bill) and two granddaughters, Florene and Mildred Smith, all of Hamlin.

Mr. Smith reports crops are looking fine in that part of the state.

Work on, renew your courage daily. The only failure is to admit failure.—Hubbard.

24 hours after application, it should be replaced as soon as possible.

Any good dusting machine suitable for calcium arsenate dusting will also handle sulphur.

Recently made survey of most common host of horsemint exceeding large number of mynph and adult flea hoppers. It has always been found that this insect has migrated from this weed directly to cotton. Of course our cotton is late and with the abundance supply of moisture will be very attractive to this insect.

4-H club boys have been working for a number of months on entomology work and are entering this contest at A. & M. short course. They have collected 50 odd species of economic insects. Included in these are, injurious to cotton, namely, flea hopper, boll weevil, boll worm and leaf-worm.

Mr. J. E. Moody, Manager of Cotton Oil Mill at Hamlin has employed J. R. McCann, entomologist, to work in the Hamlin territory to aid farmers in control of these pests.

The plans are being formulated at this time to have at least three sulphur demonstrations in the county. They are to be located in Hamlin, Stamford and Anson to control the flea hopper. The materialization of this depend upon infestation of this pest.

GAS COMPANY PASSES THIRTIETH MILESTONE

(Will C. Grant, Lone Star Gas Co., Dallas, Texas.)

Thirty years ago at Austin, the Secretary of State authorized incorporation of Lone Star Gas Company for the purpose of producing and transporting natural gas from distant fields to towns and cities miles away. At that time this was considered a hazardous undertaking. Fortunes, business reputations, and even lives were staked on that bet against failure.

The charter for this company was obtained by L. B. Denning, now president of the company, and his associates. They built the first long distance pipe line in Texas, from Petrolia in Clay County to Fort Worth and Dallas, and despite the misgivings of many people the first delivery of gas through this pipe line became an accomplished fact when natural gas was turned into the mains of Fort Worth in February 1910, and in Dallas two months later.

That was the origin of the Lone Star Gas System which today serves 299 towns in Texas and Oklahoma and this year celebrates its thirtieth anniversary. The 126 mile pipe line has increased to 4,700 miles of pipe, and where once there were only 15 to 25 employees, today there are more than 3,000 watching over the gas service.

Mr. Denning, however, can still recall the struggles of the little company during its early years. He remembers particularly the dark days of the World War, when new sources of supply were unobtainable and customers complained each winter about the lack of pressure in their stoves. With pride he recalls the days in 1924 when experiments conducted by company engineers developed a successful method of utilizing gas from oil wells. This, with the company's ceaseless prospecting for new fields, has increased supplies from the single Petrolia field to 46 fields located in the Panhandle, Southern Oklahoma, West Texas and East Texas. Twenty-one compressor stations keep constant watch over the pressures which insure dependable gas service in more than a quarter million Texas and Oklahoma homes.

LITTLE BOY HURT BY AUTO JULY FOURTH

Little Jimmy Kidd, age about 12 years, was painfully injured on July 4th, while riding his bicycle on the Stamford Highway in East Hamlin, near the Hall garage. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Kidd.

Observers say the little fellow saw the danger of the approaching car and jumped from his bicycle. His head and left hand were considerably bruised and cut. First Aid was given by Dr. Magee at his office. It is hoped the boy is not seriously injured.

RETURNED FROM ROTARY CONVENTION IN CLEVELAND

Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Cassle returned Saturday from Cleveland, Ohio, where they attended the International Rotary Convention. They traveled more than 3200 miles and did not have a flat or car trouble of any kind and report a trip filled with pleasure and interest.

While in Cleveland Mr. and Mrs. Cassle were delightfully entertained by Messrs. Ernest, Carl and Otto Lehman and their sisters, Mrs. Berma and Mrs. Edenheimer, brothers and sisters of the late Richard Lehman, of Hamlin. Mrs. Cassle says the Lehman family keep in touch with Hamlin through reading the Herald and Mrs. Burman said they enjoyed the Hamlin Herald more than any other paper they read.

Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Floyd of Junction came up last Saturday to spend the week-end and the Fourth with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McClung and to get their little daughter, Peggy Ann who had spent several weeks here with her grandparents.

Panhandle Construction Co. Starts Work On Water Line Into Town

Last Monday the work started on the big water line from Lake Cali to the treating and pump station in Hamlin.

This work is under contract by the Panhandle Construction Company of Lubbock, and the immediate construction is under the direction of Supt. Bert Herrin of that city.

Big ditching machinery started Monday on the 33,000 trench into which is being laid 33,000 feet of 10 inch cast iron piping. This pipe line will be laid on an average of 4 feet beneath the ground and in some places the excavations will be about 14 feet deep. The fall will be graduated from Lake Cali so as to bring the water direct to the new plant to be built right at the old pump station in town.

This pipe line will approach Hamlin just west of the bridge over Highway 83 on the road to Anson. It will dip under the creek and come on up the creek and come under the new Hamlin-Sweetwater highway bridge, thence under the Santa Fe tracks to the pump station.

This pipe line will be jointed with jute and mineral lead.

CONTRACT BIDS TO BE OPENED NEXT TUESDAY FOR TREATING PLANT

Next Tuesday will be a big day in Hamlin again for contractors. At that time, July 11, bids will be opened for the construction of a modern water-treating plant and pump station. This will in no way interfere with the present plant and will be for the purpose of handling the water from the new lake south of town. This guarantees no mixing of water, so that if the water from the new lake is soft it will not come in connection with the hard water from the old lakes west of town. Then again if need be, the water from the new lake can be cut off and water solely from the "gyp lakes" can be utilized. A situation might arise whereby this would be advisable. A big rise of new water could come into Lake Cali and the water in the lakes west of town still be clear, or maybe the reverse.

Under normal progress every unit of the new water system should be finished by the end of the year and everything set for the use of new water next spring.

FRANK JOHNSON WON RUNNER-UP PRIZE AT ABILENE

Hamlin's champion in the recent Golf Tournament in Hamlin, Frank Johnson, played in the Abilene Tournament, that ended July 4th.

Johnson entered in the Second Flight, won over four contestants and in the final of that flight he lost to Pender 2-1.

Pender was awarded a sport suit of clothes and Mr. Johnson received a $12.75 Parker Fountain Pen set.

A. J. Cohorn and family of Sinton came up Monday to spend a few days with his brothers, C. C. and O. L. Cohorn and old friends in the Hamlin community. Mr. Cohorn says cotton picking is at hand in Southern Texas and that crops are mighty short owing to the drought in that section.

Kurt Schoemann and his mother, Mrs. Freida Schoemann spent the week-end and July 4th at Ruidosa, New Mexico summer resort.

NOT A NEWSPAPER FOUND

IN WASTE BASKET

Not long ago a local business man was standing in the post office lobby of the local post office. He noticed a man remove his mail from his box and glance through the letters. Without taking half a look at a brightly colored circular, he tossed it into the large waste basket near the desk just under the clock. He never took so much time to ascertain what it was or where it came from. Another business man noticed the fate of the circular and they got to talking. They looked in the waste basket and found such circulars. Not a one had been opened. They cost money and were more postage, but failed to reach the prospective customer. The fate of the whole matter is that the two men commented that not a newspaper was in the waste basket. One of these business men had in his past mailed out just such circulars he said, before he learned that people seldom read them.

NEW HIGHWAY COM. BRADY P. GENTRY STARTING OFF FINE

—OO—

(From the Men's Bureau of the Texas Good Roads Association)

A "good man for a big job" is the descriptive term Charles E. Simons applies to Brady P. Gentry, new chairman of the Texas Highway Commission, in an article in the June issue of Texas Parade.

The selection of Mr. Gentry, Tyler attorney, was approved by the Senate of Texas after three previous appointees of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel had been rejected. The importance with which the highway commission chairmanship is regarded may be judged from the chain of events which caused a delay of more than three months in obtaining a man to fill the position.

"It is no small tribute, writes Mr. Simons, to the character and standing of Mr. Gentry that he was unanimously approved by the Senate under such circumstances. Mr. Gentry's past experience indicates that his tenure on the commission will be one of successful accomplishment. He is a lawyer of considerable experience and has the judicial temperament necessary to carry on the vital work of building a system of state highways that is so necessary to insure progress in Texas. He knows something of road building, also, having served eight years as Smith County judge and in these days of rapidly expanding highway transportation it is necessary that a county judge be familiar with the theory and practice of road construction and financing.

In conducting his first hearing as highway commission chairman, Mr. Gentry demonstrated the value of his past experience. In his former capacity as judge of Smith County, he made many appearances before the highway commission to discuss road construction problems. In these appearances he stood before the commission in the interest of his home county. He presented his problems clearly, fairly and concisely and with an appreciation of the multitude of problems faced by the commission and the many demands made on the State for highway construction. On the other side of the railing at his first session as presiding officer of the commission, he showed the same fairness and consideration for the county delegations appearing before him.

"Mr. Gentry took the oath of office May 19 in the governor's public reception room. Shortly afterward he addressed department heads and employees in the Austin headquarters office. In a brief, dignified talk he stated that it was not his intention to 'rock the boat' but that it was his ambition to keep the Texas Highway Department on the high plane it now enjoys—as one of the best in the United States. He commended employees on the fine conscientiousness they have exhibited in their work.

"Mr. Gentry was born on a Van Zandt County farm and is 43 years old. He was educated in the public schools and was admitted to the bar when 21 years old. He served with the American Army during the World War in the infantry and retired with the rank of captain. After the war, he re-entered the practice of law in Tyler and was elected Smith County attorney. Retiring from that position, he moved to Colorado to enter business. He returned to Smith County in 1930 as elected county judge, an office he held four consecutive terms. He retired voluntarily to become a candidate for Congress in the 1938 primary elections. He lost the Democratic nomination after a hot runoff race with Lindley Beckworth, the nation's youngest member of Congress.

"While county judge, Mr. Gentry was instrumental in providing Smith County with a fine system of lateral roads and co-operating fully with the Highway Department in the construction of important arterial highways, not only in Smith County but thruout his immediate area in East Texas. His work in improving the finanacial standing of Smith County during his tenure as county judge was outstanding. When he took office in 1931, Smith County had a tax rate of $1.40 per $100 valuation. When Judge Gentry retired, the tax rate had been reduced to 70 cents. In recognition of this outstanding achievement, Smith County was awarded second place by the East Texas Chamber of Commerce in grading the management of public affairs, first place going to Washington County.

"Texas, as Mr. Gentry already has learned in his brief service with the State, already is 14 years behind in the construction of its state highways. The combined efforts of all will be necessary if Texas is to achieve the ambition of attaining a highway system that will stand as a monument to its engineers, contractors, public administrators and, above all, to the taxpayers who so cheerfully dig deeply into their pockets to provide the wherewithal in the form of heavy imposts."

HAMLIN MEN MET

MR. GENTRY

It is proper at this time to tell our readers, that one week ago, Friday, June 30, W. C. Russell and Ye Editor, met a delegation of men from all the towns from Childress to Abilene, at the "bar" of the Highway Commission in Austin to urge them to complete U. S. Highway No. 83 in King and Stonewall counties.

It was our pleasure to make the acquaintance of the new Highway Commission Chairman, Mr. Brady Gentry, of Tyler. We join others in saying that Mr. Gentry makes one feel at home in his presence, and with his sparkling kind eyes and generous face, one will at once think his mission before the Commission will be successful. We find that Mr. Gentry is anxious to fully understand the communities of Texas and that he takes the position of a student. You see from the article taken from the "Parade," the highway journal, that Mr. Gentry is a "Van Zandt" and that means TEXAS. He perhaps knows much about his big old state, but the first two or three open meetings on the Commission has convinced him that Texas has some long roads, and that out here in West Texas are great stretches without any roads at all. He will make Texas a good business chairman, and we believe will be for all sections of the state on a basis of progress. Mr. Gentry has a standing invitation and a great welcome awaits him to come to Hamlin... that goes for Mr. Hines, and Mr. Bobbitt too. If these three men will help Hamlin, McCaulley, Sylvester, Longworth and Sweetwater get a road from Hamlin to Sweetwater, this whole country including Stamford, and all the country north on U. S. 83 and No. 18 will join in and throw the biggest party for them that any Highway Commission ever had in Texas. Try us boys, and see.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Fraser, of Raymondville, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Mary Elizabeth to Mr. Seward Tavenor Salvage on Saturday, July 1, 1939. The wedding took place in Houston, where the couple will make their home. The Fraser family were pioneer citizens of Hamlin, having made their home here a number of years during which time Mr. Fraser was connected with the former First State Bank.

W. D. (Uncle Dave) Smith from the Smith Ranch in Stonewall Co. was over for the 4th with J. W. Ezell, who joined him in a trip to Marlin to see his brother, James D. Smith who has been there for his health for some time. They will bring him home.

Mr. and Mrs. Tate May and their son James Tate and Mrs. Delia McIntosh went to Dallas Sunday afternoon to visit friends. Mrs. McIntosh remained a few days to visit friends in the country near Dallas.

Mrs. Earl Andress and son, Mickey and Mrs. Douglas Helms, of Riverside California, are visiting relatives in Hamlin and California.

Hamlin has a new doctor this week in the person of Dr. G. E. Tabor, of Albuquerque, New Mexico. He came Wednesday and we understand his office will be in the Waggoner Drug Store building. Dr. Tabor made investigations in several towns in this section of Texas, and Hamlin seems to have caught his fancy. He picked a community noted for good health.

Dr. Tabor's wife will join him in a few days. They have one married daughter and one married son, and one son, George, a student in Howard Payne College, at Brownwood accompanied his father to Hamlin. Dr. Tabor has secured the Freedman residence on Central Avenue for their home.

Rocked-in Athletic Field-Park For Hamlin

Big Works Project Administration is getting under way in that has not yet been published but little through the Herald. A $16,000.00 Rock walled Athletic Field and City Park. Through the efforts of the City of Hamlin, the Chamber of Commerce and the public school board, much needed project was finally secured for this community, by opening through the PWA channels. City of Hamlin and associated organizations are putting up $2,500.00 and the WPA grants out $13,500.00. With this six native rock wall will be constructed to include two fields: One standard base ball diamond and the fields it needs, including a stand, with lockers and shower baths for the players. It includes a standard foot ball field that will be sodded and will have concrete bleachers for on-lookers. This will be on the west end and will extend north and south, making the south dip into the City Park area. The rock wall will be topped by iron posts wire. Already the Chamber of Commerce has expended several hundred dollars in getting the project allowed, the blue prints and materials, including an immense amount of rock, already on the ground. The old ball park and grandstand has been removed. When all the work is done, that corner of Hamlin will be modernized with a pretty park, expansive parking lanes, and some day, maybe, a swimming pool.

JEROBOAM: A MAN WITH A GREAT OPPORTUNITYLESSON TEXT—I Kings 11:26-31, 37-40.
GOLDEN TEXT—In all thy ways acknowledge him, and he shall direct thy paths.—Proverbs 3:6.

Strength of personality apart from good character will not assure success but will, on the other hand, cause only intensified failure and disaster. We may even add divine promises of blessing which are given on condition of right living, and the man of courage and strength without good moral or spiritual character will only dissipate both promise and power and will become what is even worse than a failure—a bad example and a leader of wickedness.

I. Opportunity and Treachery (vv. 26-28).

Opportunity misused may become a curse, but that is the result when a man takes what might be a blessing and turns it into a blight. The life of Jeroboam is a warning against such sinfulness and at the same time it offers us an occasion to encourage young people to make the most of their opportunities for the glory of God.

That which commended Jeroboam to Solomon was that he was a man of courage and industry (v. 28). That combination will carry a man or woman to unlimited heights. The world is so full of timid and lazy folk, that the one who has a heart of valor and a willingness to work hard stands out in bold relief. Every sensible employer knows that fact and is quick to lay hold of and advance such an individual. Times are hard and work is scarce, but opportunity still knocks at the door of the boy or girl, man or woman who is brave and diligent.

The sad thing was that there was treachery in the heart of Jeroboam. Had he been willing to wait God's time he would have received all that he did ultimately receive and more, but his strength of personality did not include good character, and he at once began to plot against the king who had given him his chance to develop and advance. Let us teach our young people to be loyal and true, as well as to be brave and ambitious.

II. Promise and Condition (vv. 29-31, 37-39).

God had reached the end of His patience with Solomon. He who had begun on his knees in the house of God, seeking wisdom that he might rule his people aright, had come to the end of his life in apostasy and in wicked indulgence of the wishes of his heathen wives. Through His prophet Ahijah, God made known the purpose to divide the kingdom into ten tribes and two—a separation which knew no reunion while Israel was in the land.

Jeroboam was promised the ten tribes with the assurance of the great blessing which had been given to David, but this was definitely on the condition that he would "hearken—walk—do—keep" (v. 38) God's statutes. The fact that he failed only emphasizes the folly and wickedness of the man, for he went on his way to destruction in spite of opportunity and blessing. Men are doing the same thing today. Oh, that we teach this lesson might be enabled to stop some such prodigal on this coming Lord's Day.

III. Danger and Exile (v. 40).

Although Jeroboam in accordance with God's promise did ultimately come to his throne, it was by way of danger and a flight into Egypt. Solomon determined to destroy him and Jeroboam had to flee into exile. If he had gone God's way to the throne and had abided God's time, he might have spared himself both danger and exile in a heathen land.

Perchance some one who reads these lines is just now languishing in the exile of an Egypt of despair because he has failed to obey God. To such a one we say, do not follow Jeroboam who went from exile into greater sin and sorrow. Turn back now, seek God in confession and contrition, and if need be, in salvation. Get back to God's way and enjoy His blessing.

In making application of the lessons learned from the life of Jeroboam, let us not fail to point out that all down through the historical records he is referred to repeatedly as the man "who made Israel to sin." "Jeroboam's sins were not the sins of a common man. It is only kings, and kings' counselors, and popes, and bishops, and ministers, and elders, and such like, who can sin and make nations and churches and congregations to sin. But they can do it. And they are doing it every day. The commonest and meanest man among us has more than enough of this terrible power of both sinning himself and making other men to sin" (Alexander Whyte).

To Be Saved

When a man is saved he is saved from something that does him harm. But that isn't all. He is saved to something that is good for him and everybody he comes in contact with.

Southern Women
Eager to Tell!

"One is bound to be gratified by the enthusiasm of Southern women for CARDUI!" says one of the Touring Reporters now conducting a Query in Southern cities.

"Of the 1297 CARDUI users we have seen so far," she said, "1296—or 93 out of every 100—said it definitely benefited them!" CARDUI's remarkable success in helping weak, rundown women who suffer from headache, depression, nervousness, and other symptoms of functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition, is explained by the way it promotes appetite and digestion, and so builds physical resistance. Try CARDUI!

Mrs. Ross Walker and son, John Thomas of Beckenridge came over Monday, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. E. M. Wilson and daughter, Miss Elmo Joy, who combined a business and pleasure trip.
